The board of the directors of the Adams County Free Library opened bids on its proposed garage-stack-room addition to the main library here and referred the bids to the property and finance committees for reports at the next meeting December 3.

2 HEIRS WANT LAND SOLD AT SHERIFF'S SALE

A Gettysburg R. 3 couple who purchased two lots in Grandview Terrace at sheriff's sale August 22, 1953, may have to give up the property for the amount they have invested in it.

Arguments by attorneys concerning whether John and Catherine Greiner, R. 3, will have to "sell back" the property they bought from the estate of John A. and Estella Carey, late of Gettysburg R. 3, will be heard by the Adams county court December 20, the court decided after a hearing Friday afternoon. The property was sold because the owner neglected to pay $7.07 in county taxes in 1951.

Arthur E. Fritz and Elizabeth C. McCormey, Lancaster, told the court their uncle, John A. Carey, died in 1937, and their arrest Estella Carey, died December 28, 1940, leaving two lots in Grandview Terrace as part of their estate. Mrs. Carey had one heir, a brother, Arthur N. Fritz. He died in January, 1945, leaving a wife and two children, Arthur E. Fritz and Elizabeth C. McCormey.

Unaware of Tax

Mr. Fritz and Mrs. McCormey said they knew of the two lots but did not know of the unpaid taxes. When they learned they were heirs to the property they also learned that the land had been sold. As heirs they would like to have the property and said they will pay all expenses that had been accumulated since that time.

County taxes, costs of entering liens, etc. totaled $28.07 when the property was sold at sheriff's sale in 1953 and Mr. and Mrs. Greiner bought it for $125. Mr. Greiner said he had paid taxes on the property and had paid to "clear the land."

COUNTY WILL DESTROY SEVEN BALL MACHINES

Adams County will destroy seven pinball machines and confiscate the money found in them.

Charles L. Sentz, McSherrystown; Robert D. Strausbaugh, McSherrystown; Monroe Morelock, Littlestown; and Bernard Wolf, Hanover, had been directed by the Adams County Court to show cause, by Friday, why the pinball machines, removed from their premises when they were arrested on charge of maintaining gambling devices, should be returned to them. No cause was shown and the court directed the district attorney to draw an order for the court's signature directing destruction of the machines and confiscation of the money.

N. Z. Reinecker was appointed auditor for Tyrone Twp. to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Allen W. Guise.

Following a hearing on failure to keep current support payments, Gale Bellamy, Hilton, Va., was ordered to post $1,000 bail with surety to appear January 14 for a further report on how he is progressing financially. He was reported as being more than $700 in arrears on the support order.

The desertion and non-support case against Robert Crum, Emmitsburg, R.D., was dismissed and the costs placed on Crum.

IGNORES RENO DIVORCE

Charles R. Thomas, Lemoyne, was told his Reno, Nevada, divorce from his wife was "not worth the paper it was written on" during a hearing on a desertion and non-support case, after Thomas said he had obtained the divorce and left Reno three hours after he received the final papers. He was ordered to pay $25 per week for the support of his wife and three children and to post $1,000 bond with surety and pay the costs.

Philip Fitz, Blue Ridge Summit, they were arrested on charges of being placed in jail until he makes payment. Fitz had been a "guest of the county" for three weeks for failure to pay $45 in court costs on his support case and was returned to jail after appearing in court.

The petition for support brought by Maria Dolores Hernandez of Puerto Rico against her husband, Juan Antonio Diaz Aponte, 127 Franklin St., was continued until further information is available.

The November term of court opens Monday. The session is expected to last about two weeks.

TROOPERS SEEK HIT-RUN DRIVER

State police are seeking a "hit-run" driver who struck a car five miles south of here on the Littlestown Rd. at 11:30 o'clock Friday night and then continued on without stopping.

The car was described as a 1946 Plymouth sedan by Kermit Leroy Bechtel, 45, Westminster R. 2, who told police he was driving south and stopped to make a left hand turn when the other car, headed north, swerved into the side of his vehicle, skidded across the highway, halted momentarily and then continued on. Damage to the Bechtel car was estimated at $130. The amount of damage to the other vehicle was unknown.

Probe Second Mischap

The accident was one of two investigated by state police Friday night.

At 8:30 o'clock two cars collided four miles north of Hanover at the intersection of the Hanover-Cross Keys Rd. and a legislative route leading to New Oxford.

Police said William Henry Kling, 77, of 416 Lincolnway West, New Oxford, attempted a left hand turn from the Hanover-Cross Keys Rd. into the New Oxford Rd. and was struck by a car operated by Francis E. Sterner, 36, Hanover R. 3. Damage to the two cars was estimated at $225. Police said Kling attempted the turn without making a signal and they are continuing their investigation.

15 Kiddies Thrilled With Their First "Schooling" In Day Care Center For Retarded Children

For 15 Adams County youngsters, ranging in age from 6 1/2 to 14, going to school is the greatest thrill they have ever had in their lives.

The school they attend is a little different from the schools that house some 9,000 other county children, and its curriculum places emphasis on such things as playing together, and how to eat and even how to talk. And for some of the 15, mastering such difficult problems is an achievement far superior to another youngster's coming home from school with a report card filled with "A's."

Up until last April the 15, and the hundreds like them through the years, had no place to go, no place to learn. They stayed home while other children went to school, and sometimes they remained at home, helpless as infants until death claimed them in their old age—or they were shifted off to some institution.

Need Public's Help

All are retarded children, and all attend the Day Care Center established last April by the Adams County Association for Retarded Children. Next week is National Retarded Children's week and the local association is calling special attention to the week because it hopes that residents of the county will make donations toward the new school to help buy some of the many things that are needed for the school.

The 15, they will number 16 after Thanksgiving when another student enters the school according to present plans, range from youngsters who are almost capable of attending regular school down to children who have a long way to progress before their mental development reaches their physical age.

But the school has already, in a few months, proven its value. There is the case of a 12-year-old who could not feed herself, or do anything when she came to the school. Now she eats as daintily as one could wish, and with broom in hand proves daily "how good a housekeeper she is." There are two youngsters who until a few months ago never uttered an intelligible word—now they can say a number of understandable words and show signs of approaching the day when they can carry on conversations.

Does "World of Good"

The teachers, Mrs. J. Clare Routson, Hanover St., and Mrs. Edward J. Barnes, R. 3, by their cheery, good-humored firmness seem to be working wonders with the children in their care. Many when they started the school had never before

THREE SERIES OF DODGE CARS ARE OFFERED

The 1955 Dodge passenger car line was introduced this week in dealers' showrooms across the nation.

William C. Newberg, Dodge president, explained that car stylists have blended aircraft sleekness and power into a "design of refreshing beauty."

He revealed that Dodge engineers have incorporated over 100 structural and mechanical innovations in the longer, lower and wider 1955 line. He said all four-door sedans have a distinct touch of hardtop styling.

Offering three series—the new Custom Royal, the Royal and the Coronet—the '55 Dodge has a built-in look of action, resulting from its swept-back design.

Performance to bear out the air-slicing swiftness in styling is provided by a wide of engines—the "Get-Away Six" developing 123 horsepower, the all-new Red Ram V-8 rated at 175 horsepower, the Super Red Ram V-8 at 183 horsepower, and the super-powered Super Red Ram V-8 at 193 horsepower.

Three-Tone Colors

Newberg announced another automotive first for Dodge in the introduction of three-tone combinations on Dodge Lancer hardtop and convertibles.

Lions To Replace Show Next Spring

Gettysburg Lions will discuss Monday evening at their weekly dinner meeting the problem of finding a new money-making project for this club year to take the place of the musical and minstrel show that has been given annually for the last five or six years.

The high school auditorium has been used for the show and with no auditorium available, the Lions have decided to drop the minstrel for a year and find some other way to make the approximately $2,000 raised each spring by the show. The club's board of directors is looking for suggestions for a new project.

The meeting will be held at the Shelter House at 6 o'clock and the program will be presented by Robert Harner, Gettysburg Municipal Authority manager. He will show a film titled "Pipeline to the Clouds."

Fred B. Snite Jr., "Boiler Kid" 18 Years, Dies At 44

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fred B. Snite Jr., 44, the famed "Boiler Kid" whose infantile paralysis doomed to an iron lung more than 18 years ago, is dead.

The plucky young man whose fighting heart made him known throughout the world died in a West Palm Beach hotel yesterday. He had gone to that city from his Miami Beach home the day before to compete in the Florida State Bridge Championships.

He went to sleep after breakfast because, he told attendants, "we want to be able to play a good game of bridge this afternoon." He never awakened.

Blame Heart Failure

Doctors believe the "incessant pumping of heart against machine, and machine against heart," caused his death, said the father, a Chicago small loan financier who maintains a winter home here. "It was apparently heart failure," the father added. "As a result of his long stay in the iron lung, his veins were no bigger than the eye of a needle."

The Snite family had come from Chicago only last Sunday to spend the winter.

Stricken In China

"Fred had an ulcer which both eroded him all the way down," his father reported. "Nonetheless, he played bridge during practically the whole trip. In fact, he won all our money."

The body was sealed in the iron lung, loaded aboard the special bus and brought to a funeral home

FOUR ESCAPE BURNING HOME THIS MORNING

A grandmother and her three grandchildren barely escaped with their lives this morning when fire destroyed their home two miles from Taneytown near the Piney Creek Bethel Church.

Mrs. Margaret Mason and the grandchildren, Theresa, 11, Charles, 9, and Margaret, 6, escaped through windows as the flames roared out of the kitchen at the home.

Mrs. Mason was awakened, she said, about 1:30 by the smell of smoke and a roaring sound. She and the children slept in rooms on the first floor, on the opposite side from the kitchen.

When she opened the kitchen door flames and smoke poured through the door. She awakened the youngsters and they escaped in their night clothes, with a few other articles of clothing they grasped in their flight.

Charles fled barefoot. He took with him a clock, which is the only memento he has of his father.

Neighbors Give Shelter

The family ran to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Parks, also of Taneytown R. 1, where they were given shelter. The Taneytown, Littlestown and Kingsdale Firemen were called to fight the blaze in the two-story brick-cased log structure. Mrs. Parks this morning paid tribute to the firemen in combating the fire and "their kindness to Mrs. Mason and the children."

The house was destroyed. Firemen saved an outkitchen at the rear of the home. A freezer of food in the outkitchen is the family's only possessions.

No estimate of loss was immediately available. Mrs. Mason said she had insurance on the home, but not on the furnishings.

Mrs. Parks said that donations of clothing and other articles were being received. Donations for the family were being accepted at the Economy Store and the Rob-Allen Shop in Taneytown.

Mrs. Mason's pocketbook was also lost in the blaze. Furniture and all of their clothing with the exception of a few shoes and coats were destroyed.

VETERAN HELD FOR SCALDING 3-YEAR-OLD SON

EBENSBURG, Pa. (P)—A 26-year-old Korean War veteran who state police said scalded his 3-year-old son as punishment is being held under $10,000 bond on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

The boy, Robert Bell, is hospitalized and in fair condition.

A state police spokesman says the boy's father, William G. Bell, severely chastised the child while another of his five children was dying from rat poison last Wednesday.

Beaten, Scalded
The victim was Ruth Ann Bell, aged 2½. Police say the child ate a piece of bread which Bell claims had been poisoned to kill rats.

Both Bell and his wife were detained for questioning but Mrs. Bell, aged 27, was released. Last night Bell was formally charged and jailed to await grand jury action.

Pvt. Matthew O'Brien of the state police said Mrs. Bell told them her husband thrust her little son into scalding water after hanging him in a duffel bag and administering severe beating with a stick.

Officers quoted Mrs. Bell as saying her husband administered the punishment because the boy had picked up a piece of bread. Officers said they found the boy in an upstairs room and that Mrs. Bell originally told them he had accidentally stepped into a pan of boiling water.

With young Robert in the hospital and two other sisters, Lorraine, 1½, and Bessie, five weeks. They are being treated for malnutrition. The Bell's fifth child, 6-year-old Billy, is being cared for at a children's home by a welfare agency.

Ellis Island Closed After 62 Years

NEW YORK, (P)—Ellis Island is closed after serving as the gateway to America for millions of immigrants during the past 62 years. The tiny island in New York harbor in recent years served chiefly as a place to keep deportees. Immigrant clearance abroad reduced the number detained on the island to almost nothing.

Yesterday the last of 50 persons still detained on the island were moved to the mainland and Edward J. Shaughnessy, district immigration director, said: "Business is closed."

The immigration service will keep a skeleton crew on Ellis. If New York City or some federal agency does not take over within a year, the island will revert to the government's General Services Administration.

Will Open York Highway Thursday

HARRISBURG (P)—A State Highway Department engineer said a 6½ mile extension of the York Expressway will be opened to traffic next Thursday "if the weather holds out."

A. J. Bedard, district engineer, said no formal opening ceremonies were planned.

The new divided highway runs from North of Newberrytown to south of Strinestown. It comes to within nine miles of York.

Plans call for constructing the roadway to York next year and eventually to extend it southward to the state line where it will meet a similar road being constructed by the State of Maryland.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

REPUBLICANS RULE SENATE

HARRISBURG (P)—The Republican Party will control the State Senate during the 1955 Legislature on the basis of a close GOP victory in the 36th senatorial district.

The victory, which means the Republicans will have a 26-24 voting edge of the Democrats, gives Gov.-elect George M. Leader a split legislature for at least the first two years of his term.

The House is controlled by the Democrats by a comfortable majority.

Actually, the Republicans have a nominal 27-23 margin over the Democrats in the Senate. However, Sen. John Carl Miller, independent Republican from Beaver County, has declared he will vote with the Democrats, making the lineup 26-24 in the GOP's favor.

In the 36th district Republican J. Irving Whalley, Windber, was declared the Senate race winner over Democrat Joseph H. Cascio, Somerset, by a 63-vote majority. The official count, which included absentee military ballots, gave Whalley 23,686 and Cascio 23,623 in the three-county district.

Today's Talk

THAT SOMEONE ELSE
I believe we all have tucked away in our consciousness the example of someone who has influenced our life more than anyone else. It may be a father, a mother, or a near and dear friend. I like to think of several of my friends as guide-posts, for they so often do guide me away from the wrong road.

In a sense, we are all hero worshippers. This is well, for it keeps us from lowering our standards and encourages us to go forward, forever enriching our experience and growth of mind.
Dominating nearly every life is that someone else whose silent admonitions keep us to the main road.

Abraham Lincoln once said:
"All that I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."
Each one of us can name at least one person, whose kindly example and directives have been a source of great satisfaction and encouragement. Many people give out from themselves rare inspiration without realizing the fact. We are often influenced by someone else whom we have not even met.

Historic characters influence long after they have died in body.
It is possible for that someone else to be your better self, which undoubtedly has saved you many a sorrow, or disappointment. How few of us are able to trace to its source the origin of our strength, growth, or happiness.

All along the line, however, is that someone else—or perhaps many of them—to whom we owe a debt that can never be paid.
We all need one or more friends to whom to turn when the way ahead gets dark and we in our loneliness need someone else to spur us on, or to give us confidence. With someone else near it makes all the difference in the world! All fear flies out of the window, and there remains an atmosphere of peace and hope.

I wonder if we can't be that someone else?

WINDOW SHOPPING
Given orders, I was told
To avoid the places where Candy bars and cones are sold,
And not even stop to stare.
Though a hardware store for me
Is a fascinating spot
For a child, just half-past three,
It is positively not.

She was not inclined to stop
And to feast her twinkling eyes
At a haberdasher's shop
On displays of shirts and ties.
She was plainly in no mood
For a window full of hats
And disdainfully she viewed Shoes for gentlemen and spats.

Hand in hand a walk we took
Up and down the busy street,
But she didn't care to look
Long at groceries and meat.
I had orders to obey,
Which I'd promised not to fail,
But we made our longest stay
Where they had ice cream for sale.

JOE, IN TEARS, PROMISES HE'LL KEEP FIGHTING THE "COMMIES"

By DONALD SANDERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tearful Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy told more than 3,500 cheering and whistling adherents Thursday night that his campaign against communism will "go on and on."
That will be so, he said, regardless of the outcome of Senate consideration of a move to censure him—a debate he said "makes me sick way down deep inside."

McCarthy and his wife Jean made an unannounced appearance at a rally in Constitution Hall attended largely by self-styled "aggressive McCarthyites" who had come here from New York, Boston and other cities to urge their senators to vote against censure of the Wisconsin Republican.

McCarthy And Wife Appear
The principal speaker, Sen.
Welker (R-Idaho), was in the midst of a talk hailing his colleague as "one of the greatest living foes of Communist slavery" when the McCarthyites entered the hall and, helped through the crowd by police, made their way to the stage.

McCarthy devoted most of his brief talk to American policy on American servicemen still held by the Chinese Communists, addressing directly a group of wives and mothers who were seated on the stage in black garb.

"You are the victims of a massive appeasement, one that has been going on year after year and that knows no political bounds," he said.

His voice broke and tears appeared in his eyes. Some of the women wept openly.

Given A Plaque
McCarthy was presented a plaque for "fearless persistence in battling the enemies of our country" by the rally coordinator, Rabbi Benjamin Schultz of New York City. It was Schultz who said the rally was staged by "aggressive McCarthyites" who, he said, paid their own way to the capital.

Welker described the pending resolution to censure McCarthy as "dirty work . . . foul play." He predicted that if McCarthy is censured by the Senate, a strong campaign will be launched to seat Red China in the United Nations.

Among those introduced at the rally were Senators Mundt (R-SD) and Goldwater (R-Ariz.), Rep. Bus-bey (R-Ill.), former Sen. Burton K.
Wheeler of Montana, former Rep.
Hamilton Fish of New York and Columnist Westbrook Pegler.

Toynbee Doesn't Expect 3rd War

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—British historian Arnold J. Toynbee does not expect a third world war involving the United States and Soviet Russia.

The research professor in international history at the University of London said in an interview on Thursday that he looks for the present "cold war" between the West and Russia to continue "for a long time" with no "sensational ending."

Toynbee, here to address the autumn meeting of the American Philosophical Society, said, "We ought not be frightened by the competition. We ought to persuade the world that the West is better."

WANTS CHURCH MISSIONS TO LARGE CITIES

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A delegate to the Evangelical United Brethren Church, citing the growth of urban areas as coming upon "the American church as a great tidal wave," pleaded Thursday for more missions in cities.

The Rev. Mario N. Berger of Dayton, Ohio, associate secretary of the EUB's Department of Home Missions and Church Extension, told a general conference meeting that 55 per cent of the denomination's members now live in large cities.

"Today the growth of the vast residential areas surrounding nearly all our cities, in addition to the unprecedented development of great industrial centers in what was formerly open country," he said, "has come upon the American church as a great tidal wave, with tremendous possibilities for good as well as evil."

"Unless the church enters these fields and serves the teeming millions of young couples and their children now crowding into these areas," the Rev. Mr. Berger added, "we fail not only them but also our Lord."

Seventy-five new mission churches have been opened by the EUB in the last four years, he said.
Loans totaling 1½ million dollars were made to 112 churches, and more than 300 churches were built in the last quadrennium.

U.S. SPREADS PROTECTION TO MANY NATIONS

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has moved so far from its prewar isolation—under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations—that now it is linked to the defense of other nations spanning the world.

It has agreements with allies in Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Pacific. The agreements are not all the same, varying in the degree to which the United States pledges itself to aid its allies.

The extent of the American commitments was illustrated again Wednesday when President Eisenhower asked the Senate to approve this country's membership in SEATO, the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Ask Senate Approval

Later he will ask the Senate to bless agreements worked out in October: to restore German sovereignty, let her rearm, join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and become a member of a new West European defense organization.

The Senate will approve neither before early 1955.
The first big step out of isolation came when the United States joined the United Nations, whose 60 members are banded together for the expressed purpose of preserving peace.

They were supposed to set up an international police force to keep peace but never reached first base on that. Russia got tough.
This country looked for a way, aside from U.N. procedures, to offset Russia's threat.

It was easily found. A clause in the U.N. Charter allows its members to protect themselves by alliances outside U.N. Russia made similar alliances with its satellites and Red China.

Littlestown High Achieves 1st Unbeaten Grid Record; Rallies To Top Delone 13-7

The Thunderbolts of Littlestown High School gained their first undefeated football season in the history of the school as they clinched a seven-game winning streak by edging the Delone Catholic High Squires 13-7 in a thrilling, well-played ball game before 2,000 fans at Memorial Field, Littlestown, Friday night.

The winning touchdown came in the fourth period. Delone led 7-6 with the Bolts in possession of the ball on their own 22-yard line. Jim Zulick skirted left end for 11 yards and a first down. Don Kump and Len Potter added another first down by picking up four and 13 yards, respectively, around opposite ends. Zulick then executed the same play successfully for 27 yards placing the ball on the 23-yard line of Delone. On the next play, a 15-yard penalty was walked off against the Squires, placing the ball on the 8. With first down and goal to go, Don Kump tucked the ball under his arm and swept far around right end for the game-winning touchdown. With Kump holding, George Snyder split the up-rights for a perfect extra point.

Squires Open Scoring
Delone came up with a quick score in the first stanza. The ball had exchanged hands several times when Len Potter was finally forced to punt Littlestown out of trouble. Squire fullback Buddy Redding took the ball on the first play and moved 18 yards from his 23 to the 38-yard line. Redding and McKenrick then chalked up 16 yards placing the ball on the Thunderbolts' 45. At this point little Andy Brady took a deceptive hand-off from quarterback Carroll Funk and streaked 45 yards down field for the first score of the evening. With Greenholt holding, Funk converted and the score stood 7-0 in favor of Delone. That margin stood up through the remainder of the half.

At the second half got underway Coach Wilbur Gobrecht's Bolts played an inspired brand of football. After totting the ball on six straight plays, Littlestown was forced to kick. Delone found themselves taking over on their own 3-yard line via a 37-yard Potter punt. The Squires also found trouble in moving the ball and were soon forced to kick.

Returns Punt For TD
Phil Staub sent a high, arching Delone kick to the Squire's 41 where it was taken by Don Kump who followed beautiful down field blocking and raced the distance up the side lines for the Thunderbolts' first tally. Kump then tried a pass to Busbey for the extra point, but the play was broken up.

Littlestown's fired-up outfit, after pulling ahead on Kump's six-pointer, was on the move again in the dying moments of the game and reached the Squire's 1-yard line as the game came to an end.

The Thunderbolts played one of their best games of the season and they had to for the scrappy Squires made it a tough affair all the way.

Picking a star for the Bolts would be doing an injustice to other participants, all of whom put up good games.

Delone defenders Phil Kenworthy, Buddy Redding, Dan Greenholt and Richie Hemler intercepted five of seven Littlestown passes. On the other hand, the Squires completed but one of 11 passes for a net loss.

In Final Game
Fifteen seniors engaged in their last scholastic football game. Seeing action for the last time for the undefeated Thunderbolts were: Linemen, Jay Showaker, Fred Busbey, Dean Selby, Terry Brown and Carl Wantz. In the backfield,

ST. JOSEPH'S WINS 3 TITLES
ALLENTOWN, Pa. (P)—Racking up a near clean sweep, St. Joseph's College won the varsity team title, the freshman team championship and the individual championship in the 27th annual Middle Atlantic Collegiate Track and Field-Cross Country Race yesterday.

It was the Philadelphia school's eighth consecutive team victory in the annual affair.

St. Joseph's Eddie Mather led a pack of 67 runners across the finish line of the 4 1/2-mile Cedar Parkway course in 22:47.1. James C. McDade of St. Joseph's placed second. Henry J. Nealis was fifth, Robert McMahon eighth and Frank McLaughlin 10th, to give the Hawks their five-man winning team.

The team finishers, in order, and their points (low score wins in cross country): St. Joseph's 23, Delaware 68, Lafayette 83, Haverford 128, Lehigh 143, Swarthmore 173, Albright 181, Franklin and Marshall 207, La Salle 225, Muhlenberg 257, Alfred and Juniata did not enter full varsity teams.

Grid Pictures Are Destroyed

All the photographs taken during the Littlestown-Delone football game, at Littlestown, Friday evening, were unavailable for reproduction into engravings for publication.

The photographer, assigned by The Times to photograph the game, took a number of pictures but when the negatives were developed he learned that his flash-light mechanism did not coordinate with the snapping of the camera shutter, causing all the pictures to blur out.

The Times regrets this unavoidable occurrence. It had planned a photographic layout of the highlights of the game.

STEVENS TRADE HANDS BULLETS 12-0 SETBACK

A fumble-plagued Gettysburg College freshman football team concluded its brief season here Friday afternoon by dropping a 12-0 decision to Stevens Trade School of Lancaster. The loss gives the Bullets a season mark of two wins and one loss.

Eleven bobbles, many when the yearlings appeared headed for touchdown territory, eliminated all chances for Coach Jim Lentz's squad.

Late in the first period the Trademen recovered a fumble on the Gettysburg 23. Tom Nate then hurled a pass to Chet Knight just inches short of the goal line and on the next play Nate smacked over. Steve Krawick's boot for the point failed when the ball hit the cross-bar.

In the final moments of the second quarter Jim Dilliplane, Stevens Trade, intercepted a pass by Bob Wandling and fought his way over from the 32. The Bullet line broke through to block Krawick's kick for the point.

In the third period the Bullets reeled off three straight first downs to reach the Trademen's 25-yard line but another fumble recovery by the visitors stopped the threat.

A pass, Wandling to Charley Stearns, was good for 12 yards in the fourth period to put the ball on the visitors' 43. Wandling then got away for 25 yards but the Trademen held and took over on the 19 as the last Bullet threat ended.

The play of the Gettysburg line was particularly outstanding. Stevens Trade being held to a minus 45 yards in net rushing.

Princeton Tigers Beat Navy, Win Title

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (P)—Princeton's Jim Alden led the Tiger 150-pound football team to its first Eastern title since 1942 yesterday as he passed for three touchdowns in a 34-21 defeat of Navy, the perennial titleholder.

With only seconds of play, Navy scored on a sensational pass and lateral play. Jack Schaffer passed from his own 24 to Dan Garges who caught the ball on the Princeton 45, flipped to Ken Bechdel, of Blandard, Pa., who went all the way.

3 BOWLWARD BOUND TEAMS FACE BIG TESTS

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Ohio State, Arkansas and Georgia—three teams that have been bound bound all season—faced stiff assignments on this, the next-to-last big Saturday of the college football season.

The Buckeyes, surprise leaders of the Big 10 race, rolled into Lafayette, Ind., sporting a nifty 7-0 record for their game with Purdue. Ohio State could claim the title with a victory—and if Iowa beats Minnesota and Michigan State whips Michigan.

If everything breaks that way, the Buckeyes can make reservations for the Coast and a New Year's Day bowl game against Southern California, which already has clinched the Pacific Coast Conference spot. The Trojans still must play UCLA, the No. 1 team in the country, next week, but the results will have significance only in the conference standings. UCLA is ineligible for the Rose Bowl, having played last Jan. 1.

Dawson By Problem
Ohio State's big problem is lanky Len Dawson, the Purdue passer who likes to fling long ones. Purdue's chances for an upset rest with Dawson's arm.

Arkansas, which has flabbergasted the Southwest Conference by sweeping through all five rivals so far, had a homecoming date with Southern Methodist, needing only a tie to clinch the title and a Cotton Bowl berth.

SMU figured to be anything but a pushover for Bowden Wyatt's lads. The Mustangs have been beaten only once, by Georgia Tech, and if they turn the tables, they'll still be in the running for the crown.

Georgia Underdog
Georgia, unbeaten in league play and tied only once, looks the South-eastern Conference, but still was a one-touchdown underdog against Auburn. If the Bulldogs win this one, they'll only have Georgia Tech to beat to get into the Sugar Bowl. Georgia Tech meets Alabama today in the NCAA television game of the week.

Notre Dame, which has been scrambling and scratching to get back in the top three of the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters, since its stunning loss to Purdue almost two months ago, was a four-touchdown favorite over North Carolina. The Irish currently are ranked No. 5 in the nation.

Ivy League Unsettled
Missouri, still nursing a slight hope of representing the Big Seven in the Orange Bowl, took on the perennial champion, Oklahoma, which can't make the trip because the conference prohibits a team from playing there two years in a row. The battle for the spot probably will go right down to the wire because Kansas State and Nebraska also have a chance of getting the bid.

Army, which has developed into the class of the East, had a warm-up for its big tussle with Navy next week in Penn. The Middies took on another weak Ivy League rival, Columbia.

The Ivy League race still is unsettled, but if Yale gets by Princeton (their 7th meeting) today and Harvard next week, the Elis have it.

(This is the second of six articles on teen-age football.)

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

Each spring, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf, who coaches California's Golden Bears, tells his football players that there are no short cuts to development of individual skills in football.

"The only way to learn to block is to block one thousand times," says Waldorf.

Blocking, Waldorf feels, is the thing around which the offense is built.

The shoulder block is the one that gets the most attention from coaches. It is primarily a power block. It is best used as a ground gainer through the line but it may be used against a defensive half-back or safety or against the opposing end.

Spread Feet
To use the shoulder block the blocker should be in a well-balanced position with feet well spread. His knees should be bent and his eyes on the subject.

When the blocker makes contact, the head turns to one side. Forward momentum should be continued by straightening the knees. Don't block and fall to the ground. Instead, try to sustain the block for a few steps. Many times a ball carrier will be in your wake and the longer you sustain the block the bigger the gain for your team.

And for a team to be a success, all players should learn to block. Frank Leahy, former Notre Dame coach, says the mechanics of good blocking are:

Head up, built neck, eyes on target, back straight, weight concentrated on balls of feet, feet well spread, forearm up close to body and body under complete control.

PACKERS MEET COLTS TONIGHT AND SHOULD WIN

MILWAUKEE (P)—The Green Bay Packers, surprise team of the National Football League under rookie Coach L.V. Blackbourn, meet the Baltimore Colts tonight at County Stadium in the opener of a full weekend of pro football.

A crowd of perhaps 20,000, augmented by the fact that all of Wisconsin will be blacked out on the national television network, is expected to watch the Packers try to even their current record at 4-4. The Colts, two-touchdown underdogs, have won only once in league play this fall.

Leadership in both divisions of the pro circuit will be at stake in top games tomorrow. The New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles, tied for the Eastern Conference lead on 5-2 records, clash at the Polo Grounds in their first meeting of the year. At Detroit, the defending champion Lions entertain San Francisco, eager to wipe out a 37-31 upset of three weeks ago and retain top spot in the Western section. The Lions sport a 5-1 record, the 49ers 4-2-1.

Colts Handicapped
The Cleveland Browns, battling to get into title contention, face the Bears at Chicago; Pittsburgh will be at Washington; and the Chicago Cardinals at Los Angeles in other games.

Baltimore, which has scored only seven touchdowns in seven games, will be handicapped by injuries. Tackle Art Donovan was the latest addition to the hospital list with an inflamed leg, but might be able to play, according to Coach Weeb Ewbank. Left behind in a Baltimore hospital when the Colts came West were fullback John Huzvar and end Gino Marchetti.

The Packers, on the other hand, were at full physical strength and hoping to expand on the 7-6 margin by which they beat the Colts three weeks ago.

NEW YORK SAC PROBE DELAYED

NEW YORK (P)—An investigation by the State Athletic Commission into charges of "blacklisting and discrimination" in New York boxing was on the shelf for a week today after blanket denials by matchmakers, promoters and managers.

The charges that set off the inquiry were made by the recently formed Metropolitan Boxing Alliance against the New York Boxing Managers Guild.

Twenty-one witnesses testified before the commission yesterday in a session lasting more than six hours. When it finally broke up, Chairman Robert K. Christenberry said it would resume next Friday. He left by plane today for London and a meeting of the World Boxing Committee, which he

Interiors Of Used Cars Show More Wear Than Shiny Outside

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

One of the mysteries of the times is why so many narrow-minded drivers are so often thick-headed.

Interiors Tell The Story

Few motorists seem to realize it but depreciation eats faster into the car's interior than its exterior. Looking over a number of fine cars in one dealer's stock I was surprised to find how often shoppers were disappointed when they opened doors to look inside. Polish and wax did wonders to faded finish and chrome trim, and new tires dressed up the wheels, but even new slip covers could not cover the damage to interior fittings and trim. It is one of the wonders of the trade that so many people who live in comparative luxury at home think so little of the fine upholstery and floor coverings of their cars as to let them accumulate filth and stains.

Much damage is at the base of the doors where in haste passengers or the driver kick the door for a quicker exit. The dash of some cars shows evidence of having been used as a foot rest, while the moulding at the base of the glass for the doors usually is scratched and water marked.

Many shoppers figure in a possible repainting if the exterior is not in good condition or if it doesn't happen to please, but dirty, faded and damaged interiors look hopeless. A little carkeeping at this point certainly pays off in the long run.

Clue To Faulty Valve

It is not difficult to tell if the manifold heat control valve isn't working properly. If it is frozen in the closed position so that the mixture isn't being pre-heated the engine will be slow warming up even if fitted with a reliable thermostat. There will be popping back through the carburetor if the mixture also happens to be on the lean side, and the engine will lack power during its period of cold operation. If the valve is frozen in the closed position warming up will be excellent, but gas mileage will be down and the engine will be noticeably sluggish when it has warmed up.

Something Still Simple

In these days of highly complicated cars, and so much variation in service requirements, it is a pleasure to note that carburetors are rather alike in their method of adjusting for the idling mixture. Usually there are two screws for this. When they are turned in, clockwise, they lean down the mixture. Turning counter-clockwise (out) enriches the mixture. The rule is to adjust when the engine is hot, and to do one adjustment screw at a time.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Apparently many drivers do not realize that certain car behavior which they have figured is characteristic of certain makes is merely evidence of mechanical trouble or faulty adjustments. I was reminded to mention this when a woman driver commented on the special ease with which her newer car took corners. 'You will note,' she explained, 'that the car never pulls ahead like my old car. This is really a great improvement.'

"Improvement is the wrong word for it. She should call it a discovery. Apparently the engine of her former car was adjusted for too fast idling. It just pulled the car at a time when the throttle should have been nearly closed."

Formula For Safety

In our efforts to formulate effective safety methods for our daily motoring I think we can take a leaf from the late Emmet Fox who said "When you give your mental assent to any idea, good or bad, you associate yourself with that idea and you incorporate it into your consciousness to the extent that you realize it." Touching on the same theme at another point in his career as guide and teacher he added: "Do not associate yourself in thought with any negative or evil thing under any pretense, and thus you will keep your consciousness clear and harmonious."

Understanding Pays Off

With the recent addition of a new edition of 50,000 copies of my CAR CARE book has now reached a printing of 200,000 which is something of a record in motor books. The publishers believe it is just the beginning and that with so many cars in use the motorist needs guidance as never before.

While the modern owner today does not have the equipment nor the skill to service all the complicated mechanism of his car he is "general manager" and must know what the requirements are for successful motoring. His handling of the car has much to do with his success in avoiding breakdowns and avoidable repair bills. That's why there is so much in this little book about skillful driving. Also we must never lose sight of the fact that certain basic principles continue to apply to the mysteries under the hood. A clear understanding of these is a big forward step toward success with any car.

Job Needs Follow-Through

Many motorists who know that a leaky diaphragm in the vacuum pump section of a fuel pump will result in low oil mileage and general roughness of the engine sometimes forget to check the spark plugs after the pump is repaired or replaced. Several of the plugs will have been handicapped by oil deposits and will need cleaning before they can be expected to provide smooth operation.

Proved Nothing At All

It certainly doesn't pay to be of a suspicious turn of mind when looking into some of the deeper phases of car servicing. Let me give you a sample.

While working on a friend's car the mechanic happened to find one of the small bags in which breaker points are carried in stock. Since this was discovered down by the distributor at the back of the motor he immediately jumped to the conclusion that whoever had recently installed new points had done so with the distributor on the motor instead of on a test bench. Later the owner dropped off at another shop and asked them to take off the distributor for a careful checking. The test showed that everything was in perfect condition. Quite obviously the little bag had been rather poor evidence. It probably had been riding there at the back of the engine since some previous point replacement.

For Future Reference

Special care should always be taken when reboring brake drums because if they are thinned too much they are very apt to re-warp. One car manual says not to exceed .030 inch of brake drum material. Another point to remember concerns use of oversize linings, sometimes recommended for the purpose of checking brake squeal. The drums must be rebored to an amount equal to the increase in thickness of the new linings.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. Can two six-volt batteries be used in an emergency for supplying current for a 12-volt system? H. L. N.

A. Yes. They should be wired in series, however.

Q. The charging rate for the generator of my car seems to be very unsteady. All connections are tight, and the current regulator has been checked carefully. The drive belt isn't slipping. F. J. G.

A. Look for a weak generator brush spring here.

Q. For some time the lubricant in the rear axle of my car has been thinning down in a way that makes it difficult to prevent grease from getting into the right rear brake. Obviously the lube is overheated, but why. H. H. Jr.

A. This would seem to warrant checking to see if there is a bent axle shaft.

Q. What would cause noise in the transmission when in neutral? This is for a simple transmission, not an automatic. Do not hear it in gear, and do not think the noise comes from the speedometer.

A. This will probably call for a transmission check-up. More than likely there will be excessive endplay in the transmission.

Q. Is it necessary to change the oil in an oil-bath type air cleaner for winter use? J. L. K.

A. If the air cleaner is to do a good job, yes. In the first place by merely replacing the oil you clean out accumulated dirt. Then for the cold weather season you use a lighter oil. The rule is for use of SAE 40 oil in summer; SAE 20 in winter.

Q. I have been troubled with sluggish action of the vacuum spark advance. There doesn't seem to be anything wrong with the distributor itself, and a check shows that the diaphragm of the spark advance isn't punctured. How can you help. Wm. L. H.

A. I wonder if you have checked to see if there is a kink in the tubing from the intake to the spark advance, or something clogging the tube.

Q. While there would be other reasons for lack of power with a fully open throttle. I am of the opinion that this is due to a lean mixture. So does my mechanic. But we are not sure just what is causing the leanness. There is no leakage around the intake manifold, float level is sufficiently high and fuel pump pressure is normal. F. K.

A. It is always difficult figuring out carburetion problems even when the car is actually on the scene, but in a case like this I would be inclined to suspect partially clogged jets.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, personal reply. There is no charge.

3 DEMOCRATS WILL NOT BACK TAX CUT REPEAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Democrats on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee say they won't support a promised move to repeal the controversial tax cut on dividends enacted by the last Congress.

With Republican help, that could kill the repeal effort.

Two other committee Democrats were noncommittal, while 4 of the 10 holdover Democrats polled on the issue said they would support repeal.

One committee member did not reply.

Written In '54

The dividend tax cut, strongly backed by the Eisenhower administration, was written into the 1954 tax revision act over strong opposition from many Democrats, some of whom made an issue of it in the election campaign.

It exempts from income taxes the first $50 in dividends received by shareholders each year. And stockholders are permitted to deduct 5 per cent of their remaining dividends directly from the tax bill they otherwise would pay.

This amounts to an estimated revenue reduction of about $62 million dollars a year.

Claimed Double Tax

Republicans argued that corporation profits are taxed twice—first under regular corporation income taxes and again under individual income levies as profits are passed out to stockholders in dividends. They said the tax cut would be a spur to business investment and help long-range economic growth.

Many Democrats attacked the move as special relief for the wealthy.

With three Democrats on the key tax committee against repeal, the proposal probably will have rough sledding.

Has Tax Change Plan

To the new Congress, the party lineup on the committee will be 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans. All the Republicans have supported the dividend tax cut in the past. So even if all five Democratic newcomers and all those who took no stand in the poll lined up for repeal, they could still fall one short of a committee majority.

Adenauer Cabinet Studies Re-Arming

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Cabinet set up today a special committee of five ministers to study further the London-Paris agreements on re-arming and giving complete independence to West Germany.

It was the first time the accords were placed before the Cabinet. Political sources said delay in giving them immediate approval reflected the difficulties among the coalition partners over the agreement to Europeanize the Saar, which was tied in with the London-Paris accords.

The committee will report back to a full Cabinet session on Nov. 19.

AILING JAP MOTHER GETS HEAVY MAIL

TOKYO, (AP)—An ailing young Japanese mother has received a 'hundred letters from America.'

The woman, on a tuberculosis sickbed, has written letters urging peace and international good will to the United States, Russia and Red China.

She was swamped with American answers, but has yet to hear a word from the Reds.

Three months ago, Mrs. Chizu

Tomizawa, 25, wrote 48 letters to leading American newspapers in each state, asking to exchange letters with Americans.

Young Japanese students, impressed at the 1,000 replies she received, wrote similar letters to Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Another thousand letters came quickly.

More than a month ago, Mrs. Tomizawa wrote 150 letters to Russian and Red Chinese newspapers and organizations. She has yet to receive a single reply.

The letters to both free and Communist countries asked for individual opinions on atomic tests.

Catholic Priest Fired As Teacher

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest, accused by President Juan D. Peron as being among 21 clergymen trying to undermine the government, was discharged Friday from a high school teaching job.

Authorities in Cordoba province in central Argentina dismissed the Rev. Manuel Andreatta as professor of religion in Cordoba, the provincial capital.

Father Andreatta was among 21 priests named by Peron in a speech on Wednesday charging that a small group of Roman Catholic clergymen was trying to infiltrate the organized labor movement and undermine his government.
